

Are you the person that can bring our daughter home?

Jennifer Lynn Wilkerson

Last seen on Tuesday morning, July 13, 2004, in Lubbock, Texas. July 13, 2009 is the fifth anniversary of her disappearance. While that day holds no significance to anyone and will likely not be remembered, it is a day Jennifer's family and friends cannot forget!

Everyday for 1,807 days we have started each day praying that Jennifer will be found and brought home. Every night for 1,807 nights we have gone to bed knowing that she is still somewhere out there. We have to deal with the pain that we do not know if she is hurt, hungry, sad, cold, lonely, or the worse scenario, deceased.

Are you the person that could bring Jen home?

You can call the Lubbock County Sheriff's Office at 1/806-775-1601 or 1-806-775-1604. You can call anonymously 1-800-THE-LOST or contact the United Response Search and Rescue Team at ursarteam@ursarteam.org. You can also visit Jen's website at www.findjenniferwilkerson.wagls.com or Project Jason, www.projectjason.org to read more about Jen's case.

